

Effective revision strategies for HISTORY

1. Read, cover, write check – constant repetition and retesting key knowledge. When testing yourself, ensure to test memory first; don't copy!
2. Spider diagrams/ mind maps – complete from memory first, read over notes again (do not write) then in a different colour, fill our more knowledge from memory. The different colour will highlight the knowledge that you need to continue to practise.
3. Practice exam questions – practice does not make perfect but it makes the process easier and the real exam/assessment won't seem as daunting the more practice you put in.
